L. D. BUCK MARRIED MISS CORA SMITH BRIDE

The announcement Tuesday of the marriage of L. D. Buck came as a surprise to his patrons and friends, who were not aware that in the wee small hours of that same day he had taken to himself a bride in the person of Miss Cora Smith of Long Island, New York. The ceremony, which was to have been performed the evening before, was delayed because Miss Smith did not make the expected train connections, but immediately upon her arrival the couple went to the home of Rev. Robert A. George, where the ceremony was performed at 3 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Buck's many friends are extending congratulations and good wishes to him and his bride.

Tindall-Randolph

Mrs. Lenora Tindall and Fred Randolph were married last Saturday night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Ott, on Faulkner street. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. R. A. George in the presence of the near relatives. The bride has resided here for the last two years with her parents. Mr. Randolph has been a resident here about the same length of time and is an employee at the railroad shops. The newly married couple went immediately to the C. A. Pape home, which they will occupy during the summer. A wedding supper was served them in their new home by the bride's mother.

OKEECHOBEE SHERIFF KILLS BOOTLEGGER

Sheriff William Collins of Okeechobee county shot and killed George Wilson, a negro ex-convict, after the negro had fired six shots at him last Saturday night. The sheriff suspected the negro of planning a trip to Fort Pierce with a load of contraband booze, and drove out about six miles to wait and watch. The negro drove up behind the sheriff's car, which was standing in the road, and as soon as he found he was discovered he began shooting at the sheriff. The sheriff returned the fire without effect until the negro got out of his car, and the sheriff had the presence of mind to hold his flashlight at arm's length to one side, while he threw the light on the negro, and finished him while the negro never touched the sheriff, probably aiming at the flashlight. When the negro fell the sheriff took his gun and got help to bring the body and the auto load of wet goods into town. The load consisted of 50 quarts of sealed goods and six gallons of moonshine.

RIO VISTA CLOSING SUCCESSFUL SEASON

POPULAR TOURIST HOTEL FINISHES SEASON TODAY AND IS TO BE CLOSED DURING SUMMER MONTHS.

Finishing its most successful season, the Rio Vista hotel will close its doors to the public today.

Many of the guests at the hotel have left for their northern homes during the last week, but some have remained until the last, leaving only when the time came for closing the hostelry.

The tourist season just closing has been a successful one for the hotel, which is finishing its third season, and the management, as well as the officers and stockholders of the hotel company are well satisfied with the business done this year.

Being practically new, the hotel is not yet well known among the winter visitors to the state, but is becoming better known each year. That the hotel and management are popular with the guests is shown by the fact that many of the guests this season were at the house last year. Many of them will return again next year, having already made reservations for the coming season.

Under the management of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Johnson the hotel is fast gaining an enviable reputation with the winter visitors, and it is hoped by guests and townspeople that Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will return to the Rio Vista next season.

Ocean House Remains Open
The Ocean House will remain open under the management of Sammer Bros. through the month of April, closing the winter season about the first of May.

SEABREEZE SCHOOL WINS IN CONTEST

After listening to the excellent program given in a most gratifying manner by the eight contestants in the second annual Peabody oratorical contest at the Seabreeze high school last Saturday afternoon, S. J. Peabody the founder of the series announced that he would give the prizes for a contest again next winter.

At the same time he made the suggestion that it take the form of a debate. The decision to give the third contest in 1920 was reached because of the excellent work done by the contestants who entered the lists for the three cash prizes offered this year by Mr. Peabody. There were three contestants from DeLand, two from New Smyrna and three from Seabreeze.

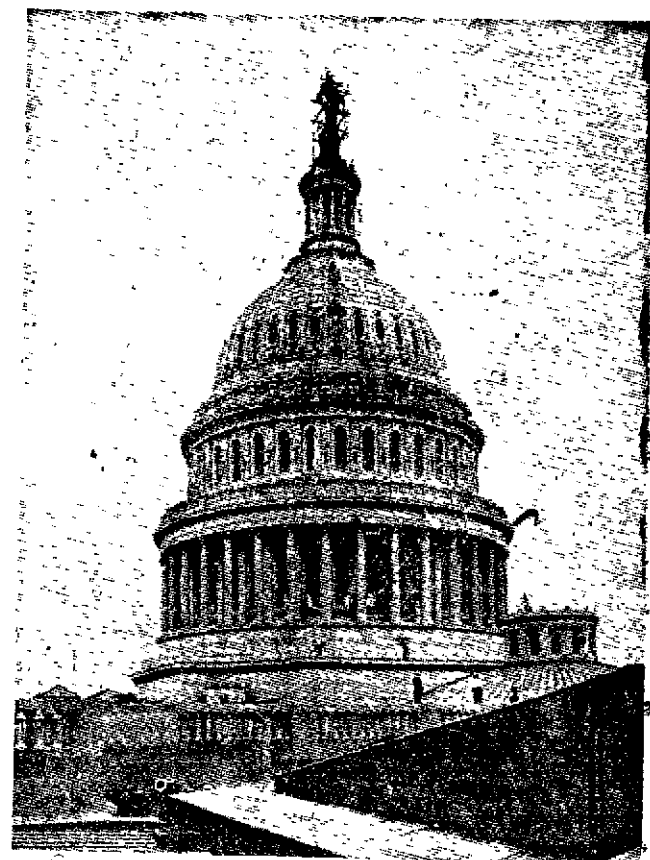

County Superintendent C. R. M. Sheppard was in charge of the contest and there was a large audience of interested spectators from New Smyrna, DeLand and other places in the county. The awards were made by R. S. Holmes, of Daytona Beach, Prof. L. C. Styer of Stetson University and Mrs. W. L. Cooper of New Smyrna. The points were given equally on enunciation, command of subject, general bearing and voice. The verdict of the judges awarded first place to Edward Bebee of Seabreeze. He was awarded $15. Chandler Smith of DeLand was given second place and the prize of $10. Miss Mary Parsons of Seabreeze was third and received $5. Miss Catherine Watterson of Seabreeze was given honorable mention. Other entrants were Miss Gladys Stevens of DeLand, and Louis Bouchelle and Royal Klintworth of New Smyrna.

Among those from New Smyrna who were present were Principal H. J. Craven, Mrs. Nellie Crews Walker and Mrs. W. L. Cooper.

AUTO HITS MOTOR CAR THREE NEGROES HURT

Three negroes were badly injured when an automobile struck a railroad motor car at the Canal street crossing yesterday noon. The three injured men were attended by Dr. W. C. Chowning, the local railroad physician, and placed on train No. 12 and sent to the hospital in St. Augustine. One of them was thrown under the motor car and run over, his leg being broken at the thigh and his back seriously injured. The other two were not so badly hurt, but were much bruised and cut. The motor car was being used by Foreman S. W. Smith and his crew and Mr. Smith was considerably bruised and scratched, but not seriously injured. The automobile was one passing through the city, coming east on Canal street, and was not much damaged. The motor car was badly wrecked.

The dome of the United States Capitol at Washington is kept in excellent condition by painting it every few years. For this work forty painters are steadily employed for three months' time. CONFIDENCE MEN CLEAN MAN HERE FOR $10,000

Induce Him to Make Trip to His Home in Canada to Raise Money and then Take It Away from Him on Fake Deal in Stocks.

Stung by confidence men for $10,000 in cold cash—practically everything he had in the world—there was one man in New Smyrna yesterday who is a poorer, sadder and wiser man.

The man is a retired farmer from Ontario, Canada, who has been spending the winter in Florida and came here by appointment with his alleged friends, who are now gone with his cash. Realizing that his experience has left him with nothing but a return ticket to Canada and a mortgage on his property and that he has nothing to gain by silently brooding over the affair which has "broke" him, the man talks freely about the matter, but specially requests that his name be not used. As he is a total stranger in New Smyrna the name of Smith will answer.

It is the old, old story of listening to the advice of newly made friends to play a sure thing on the stock market and make enough money to last him for the balance of his life. The sure thing failed at the last minute, everybody lost all their money, the friends got into a free for all fight and all disappeared. Also, Mr. Smith's money disappeared at the same time and he didn't wake up to the real situation until sufficient time afterward for the "friends" and money to have put considerable distance between them and New Smyrna.

Deal Starts at Miami

The beginning of the story dates back to March 5, when Mr. Smith, who was spending the winter in Miami, got into conversation with a couple of strangers while sitting in the park in that city. Merely the time of day was passed and the conversation went along general lines, but at parting the two strangers expressed pleasure at having met Mr. Smith and introduced themselves as R. R. Wardell of East St. Louis and B. L. Adams, P. O. box 435, Minneapolis, Minn. They expressed a desire to meet Mr. Smith again, and an appointment was made for the next day. During the course of the conversation the next day, when the subject of stocks and killings on the stock exchange was being discussed, Mr. Wardell remarked that he knew of a branch office in Miami operated by a wealthy New York firm which was "strong enough to control the market." It was arranged that his friends, Smith and Adams, should meet the manager of this Miami branch.

Accordingly, next day they were introduced to C. B. Kerwood of 314 Eighth avenue, Youkers, New York, who was stopping at the Plaza hotel and represented himself to be the Miami representative of this wealthy New York firm. By special arrangement the three friends, Smith, Wardell and Adams, were taken to this branch office, which was located in a residence near the city limits of Miami. The place was fully equipped with telegraph instruments and operators, who were taking the stock quotations and marking them up on a blackboard. There was plenty of money in sight and men who were "playing the market." Taking a tip from Kerwood the three friends purchased a small amount of stock of a certain kind and the next day sold it at a handsome profit.

Tip to Play Heavy

This was repeated several times, until Mr. Smith began to get interested and felt he was learning how to "play the market" to win every time. Then came the tip from Mr. Kerwood, straight information from his company in New York, that there was likely to be some decided changes in the copper market at any time and to be prepared for these changes when they came.

The time came to buy copper on a rising market and make a killing. Taking the tip from Mr. Kerwood, Wardell and Adams decided to play heavy and buy $10,000 worth of copper stock each. Smith was urged to do the same thing, but Smith didn't have that much money. He was willing to put in what he had and could raise through his bank in Ontario, but that wouldn't amount to $10,000. It was explained by Mr. Kerwood that it was necessary for each of the men to buy $10,000 worth of stock in order to make it worth while for his company to swing the market so they could make the proposed "killing," which Mr. Kerwood figured up for them would amount to something over $96,000, or a little better than $32,000 profit for each.

Sent Home for Money

The only way Mr. Smith could raise that much money would be for him to go back to his home town in Canada, mortgage his property and bring the money back with him. He was finally persuaded to do this, being assured by Mr. Kerwood that he could have his company hold off the proposed cornering of the copper mar-

AGED RESIDENT IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

IN PASSING OF C. C. MOORE, NEW SMYRNA MOURNS LOSS OF ONE OF OLDEST AND BEST KNOWN CITIZENS.

In the death of Charles C. Moore, which occurred Monday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. E. Swoope, New Smyrna loses one of her oldest, best known and most liked citizens. Mr. Moore was 83 years of age and had been in feeble health for several months, an attack of influenza last fall having weakened him to such an extent he was not able to regain his strength. Mr. Moore was one of the oldest residents of this city, having come here from Carlisle, Illinois, 20 years ago with his daughter and wife, the latter living only five years after moving here. Mr. Moore loved Florida so well he would never return to his native state. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Swoope, and a host of friends to mourn his demise.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the home, conducted by Rev. R. A. George, interment being made in the Hawks Park cemetery. The pallbearers were H. Luthge, T. J. Murray, J. J. Birch, J. T. Swinford, M. Lockwitz and M. A. Brunson.

LOCAL MAN WEDS ST. AUGUSTINE GIRL

St. Augustine Record: William Lewis Hudson formerly of this city, but now of New Smyrna, and Miss Dorothy Marie Say were quietly married Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock by Judge George William Jackson at his office. The wedding was very quiet, the only attendants being Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Lopez and the latter's mother, Mrs. E. J. Car. Most intimate friends of the young couple. The groom is a promising young conductor on the Florida East Coast Flagler system running from New Smyrna to Fort Pierce. The bride was a nurse at the Florida East Coast hospital. After the ceremony the couple left on the 2:40 train for New Smyrna, where they will make their future home.

ket until he, Smith, got back with the cash.

Kept Men Posted by Wires

Mr. Smith boarded the train at Miami and went to his home in Canada. Following instructions from Mr. Kerwood, he wired when he reached home, wired again when he completed the transaction of mortgaging his property and received a New York draft for $10,000, wired again when he started back to Miami, sent another telegram when he reached Jacksonville, and was met by Wardell and Adams at St. Augustine and informed that Mr. Kerwood had received instructions from his company to move his branch office from Miami to New Smyrna, and that the three of them were to meet him here.

Begin Operations Here

Accordingly they got off the night train at New Smyrna, and all three put up at the Ocean House. The next day Adams suggested that as they were to be here for several days it would be better to find some quarters where they would be more by themselves, so they engaged a room at Mrs. Skipper's, furnished for light housekeeping, and started to "batch" it, Adams being a good cook.

The next day they met Mr. Kerwood, who was stopping at the Rio Vista, and he showed them his instructions to move the branch office to New Smyrna, and explained that the branch office had been opened on south Magnolia street, near the Palms hotel. He inquired if Mr. Smith had his money, was advised that the draft was in Smith's pocket, and advised him to put it in the bank and have it placed to his credit. Mr. Smith took his draft to the bank and asked that it be placed to his credit, saying he was planning to buy some timber land near here, but the bank declined to do this, explaining that the draft would be taken for collection and placed to his credit when the money was received. After a consultation with Kerwood, Smith decided to leave the draft for collection. This was last Friday and he was advised that the money would be here from New York about Wednesday.

So Wednesday was set for the date to place the big money on copper, to be purchased on a rising market. Kerwood had it all fixed with his company to swing the market the right way at the right time.

EVERY CAR IN STATE MUST CARRY NUMBER

Governor INSTRUCTS SHERIFFS TO STRICTLY ENFORCE PROVISIONS OF STATE LAW ON LICENSES.

Governor Catfish has given the sheriffs of the state positive instructions to enforce the law regarding motor vehicle license tags to the letter. It is said that complaints were made from Volusia county, as well as from other counties in the state, and the following instructions were issued by the governor:

"To the sheriffs of the several counties of the state:

"Gentlemen: "Complaints have been made to me that cars are being operated on the roads and streets of the state without number plates, as required by chapter 7275, laws of the state. Ample time has elapsed for the registration of every car in the state, and the comptroller is prepared to furnish tags for all machines required by law to be registered. There is no good reason why every person operating a motor vehicle should not have complied with the law by this time.

"Enforcement of this statute under the law, like other criminal laws of the state, depends upon the activities of the sheriffs and their deputies.

"You will, therefore, please take the necessary steps at once to enforce the provisions of the law and see that every motor vehicle being operated on the roads of the state carries the proper number plates, as it is manifestly unfair for one person to be required to pay the tax, while another does not, to say nothing about the loss of revenue to the state, which goes to benefit the roads.

"The law should be strictly enforced against all persons alike, and you will please do so in your county.

"Yours very truly,
"SIDNEY J. CATTS,
"Governor."

Bill Bailey Injured

Bill Bailey, a well known railroad man, met with an accident while coming in on his run from Jacksonville Tuesday night. He fell from his train into a hole beside the track and seriously wrenched his back. He is now confined to his bed at his home and will probably not be able to take his run for several days.

CLARENCE LOPEZ HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE

The home of Clarence Lopez, about one and a half miles west of the city on the DeLand road, was burned to the ground about noon Tuesday, no one being at home at the time of the fire. Not even their clothing was saved, and there was practically no insurance on the place. Mr. Lopez and family had occupied the place only three weeks, having recently traded his property in the north part of the city for the place.

Adams stuck close to Smith, not permitting him to get into conversation with any person for more than a few minutes at a time. They had the use of Kerwood's Buick touring car, in which they had made the trip from Miami, and spent most of the time driving or out on the river fishing. Smith was advised not to talk to Mrs. Skipper, as he was told that all the southern women were bad and the less he had to do with them the better off he would be.

Draws Cash from Bank

When the day of the big deal arrived Kerwood accompanied Smith to the bank, where he demanded his money, all in cash, explaining that he was about to close his timber deal. The money was paid over to him with the advice that he would better not carry that much money on his person. Smith and Kerwood returned to the room at Mrs. Skipper's, where Wardell and Adams were waiting, and arrangements were completed for the big deal in copper. Kerwood excused himself and went to the branch office to see that everything was going all right and returned with the information that his company had fixed the New York market and that copper was going up fast. The $30,000 raised by Smith, Wardell and Adams was placed in Wardell's hands and he was told to go over to the branch office and buy copper stock for the whole amount. Just before Wardell left the room Kerwood pulled $6,000 in cash from his pocket and handed it to Wardell to buy copper stock for him, explaining that his company would not permit him to buy, but Wardell could purchase the stock in his, Wardell's name and turn the profits over to Kerwood.

The Eubie Bursts
As soon as Wardell left the three men sat down to figure their profits, and Kerwood figured it the same as he had previously, a total of $96,000 gain, or $32,000 for each of the three.

While they were still figuring the profits Wardell burst into the room very much excited. He explained that the copper market was falling instead of rising, that he had placed the whole $36,000 on copper on a falling market, that the branch office had been closed for the day a few minutes later, that he had no money to cover the short and that they had lost the whole amount.

Fight Is Started
He blamed Kerwood for giving them a wrong tip, called him every vile name he could think of and threatened to kill him. He jumped on Kerwood, who was sitting on the bed, grabbed him by the throat and was apparently trying to carry out his threat when Adams interferred and separated them. A general "chewing match" followed, but they finally all "made up" and agreed to be friends.

Previous to Wednesday Kerwood had received instructions from his company to move the branch office from New Smyrna to Ohio, and arrangements had been made for Smith, Wardell and Adams to accompany him there. They were all to leave Wednesday afternoon, after they had collected their profits from the stock transaction.

Smith Grows Suspicious
When things went wrong Wardell and Adams left to go over to the branch office and see if some arrangements could be made to get at least part of their money back. Kerwood left in his car, saying he had to go to Titusville to get some repairs for the car which he could not get in New Smyrna. Smith was instructed to wait until Wardell and Adams returned—and he has not seen them since.

Smith waited for several hours, then began to grow uneasy and finally started out to look for his "friends." Up to this time he still considered the three men his friends, and that they had lost their money on the transaction, the same as he had. Now, however, he began to grow suspicious. He could find no trace of his "friends," and no branch stock exchange office. All had completely vanished and he was $10,000 poorer.

Wednesday evening he went into W. P. Wilkinson's store and told him the experience. Wilkinson telephoned Sheriff Morris and yesterday the sheriff came to New Smyrna, heard Smith's story, had him swear out a warrant and started an effort to head off the men.

Smith is still waiting here in the hope of getting some trace of the confidence men and has some hope of getting his hands on them. If he ever does, there won't be much left of the ones he gets hold of as Smith measures more than six feet in height, is powerfully built and well preserved.

Smith has been a hard working man all his life. His wife died three years ago, and this broke up his home. He had accumulated enough property to retire from active work and take things easier for the balance of his life. He says this experience has made a poor man out of him and he will use his return ticket to Canada to go back to work and start all over again.

CORONADO NEWS

A large number from New Smyrna enjoyed the Woman's club picnic at the Beach hotel pavilion Tuesday.

People are leaving every day now for their northern homes. We are looking forward to seeing the majority of them return next fall.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Terpening and daughter Frances left Monday for their home in Beulah, Mich. They expect to make the entire trip in their car.

A total of about $15 was obtained from the sale of tags for the child welfare work. This special work is being done everywhere by the W. C. T. U.

Mr. and Mrs. Gee and two children of Whitehall, Mich., left Tuesday for their home, after spending several months here. They expressed their intention of returning next fall.

Death of Mrs. Carney

The community was shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. John Carney, which occurred some time Sunday night. Mrs. Carney had gone to bed apparently in good health and was found dead in bed Monday morning. Mrs. Carney, who was formerly Mrs. Parrott, was 45 years of age and leaves four children, one son, Lee, being employed by the railroad, and the other three being in the children's home in Jacksonville. Mrs. Carney was married a few months ago to John Carney of this place. She was a hard working woman and had been all of her life. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at the Maley undertaking rooms and interment was in the Hawks Park cemetery.

Cut Glass More Fragile.

Cut glass probably would break more easily than uncut glass. The pattern in cut glass is cut by means of grinding wheels. Uncut glass patterns are usually molded. The angles in cut glass are better defined and sharper. The cutter also may, in some places, drive his wheel a little deeper than in other spots. Obviously, the glass at such points would be thinner and more fragile.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB

The Woman's club picnic, held Tuesday at Daugherty's hotel on the beach, was one of the most delightful gatherings of the club year.

Although the weather was windy and disagreeable, there was a large number present, and a social time was enjoyed inside. A splendid dinner was spread, which had been brought by those present and together with hot coffee was enjoyed by everyone. Mesdames H. H. Sams, G. M. Marshall and E. M. Little had charge of affairs and spread the tables. An invitation had been extended to the musicians who had so kindly assisted on the programs during the year and they joined the club members at dinner.

Varying the usual order of business, the annual election of officers was held in connection with the picnic and resulted as follows:

President—Mrs. H. H. Sams.
Vice President—Mrs. P. A. Powers.
Secretary—Mrs. Athearn.
Treasurer—Mrs. E. A. Latham.
Department Chairmen: Literary, Mrs. W. L. Cooper; music, Mrs. W. C. Chowning; social, Mrs. S. M. Jones; civics, Mrs. E. M. Little; junior civics, Mrs. G. M. Marshall.

There were 51 present at the dinner, including members and friends of the club.

TEN MONTHS IN GANG
FOR YOUNG WHITE MAN

A clean looking young white man, 22 to 24 years of age, well dressed, with hair neatly cut and brushed, appeared before Judge Hamlin last week and drew ten months in the chain gang, where he will serve with negroes working on the public roads.

It was a sad sight and but proved the depravity of a man who should have known better.

The man was G. A. Fretwell, whose home is in Quitman, Ga., where his people live. He made all kinds of promises if the judge would let him off upon payment of the costs, promises to turn over a new leaf, to walk in the straight and narrow way, and live a life above reproach.

But the evidence before the court proved that Fretwell was a soldier of his country; was insubordinate, and was dishonorably discharged from the army; that he had passed one worthless check or $25.00 on the father of the young lady he was courting in Lake Helen, and another worthless check in DeLand; that he had passed other worthless checks was stated by officers of the Quitman, Ga., bank, in a letter to the officers here.

The judge could do nothing but give him a severe lesson. He assessed a fine of $250.00 and costs or ten months on the county roads. Unless the young man's relatives, who are well to do, and have apparently been paying his worthless checks in the past, come to his relief, he must serve the ten months with negro thieves, blind tiger runners, etc.

It was a sad sight, but one that is becoming common in Florida the past two winter seasons. The state is flooded with these young men, who appear to think they can come here and do things which would not be tolerated in any civilized community.—DeLand News.

Blucher in the Hospital.

At the time of the seven years war there was very little knowledge of surgery, and the surgeons were often more than barbers, inexperienced and uneducated. They were commonly known as the "Company of Pain," a name that fitted them admirably. Lieutenant Blucher, afterward the famous field marshal, was wounded in the foot by a musket ball. At the hospital to which he was carried several surgeons began to probe the wound and cut promiscuously in its vicinity. Finally Blucher inquired, in spite of the pain, "What sort of tailoring are you trying to do? The wound is large enough already, I 'should think'!" "We're looking for the bullet," answered one of the offended surgeons. "Oh! Oh!" cried Blucher angrily. "Why didn't you tell me that before? I have it in my pocket." And with that he drew from his pocket the bullet, which he had extracted from the wound himself.

Evolution of the Almond. One would scarcely suspect the almond of ever being anything else than a nut. Outside the shell is a thin coating of green, leathery pulp, too bitter to eat and not much more inviting than the husk of a hazelnut. Yet, within historical times, selection and cultivation have modified the almond into a luscious fruit—the peach.

OKEECHOBEE SHERIFF KILLS BOOTLEGGER

Sheriff William Collins of Okeechobee county shot and killed George Wilson, a negro ex-convict, after the negro had fired six shots at him last Saturday night. The sheriff suspected the negro of planning a trip to Fort Pierce with a load of contraband booze, and drove out about six miles to wait and watch. The negro drove up behind the sheriff's car, which was standing in the road, and as soon as he found he was discovered he began shooting at the sheriff. The sheriff returned the fire without effect until the negro got out of his car, and the sheriff had the presence of mind to hold his flashlight at arm's length to one side, while he threw the light on the negro, and finished him while the negro never touched the sheriff, probably aiming at the flashlight. When the negro fell the sheriff took his gun and got help to bring the body and the auto load of wet goods into town. The load consisted of 50 quarts of sealed goods and six gallons of moonshine.

RIO VISTA CLOSING SUCCESSFUL SEASON

POPULAR TOURIST HOTEL FINISHES SEASON TODAY AND IS TO BE CLOSED DURING SUMMER MONTHS.

Finishing its most successful season, the Rio Vista hotel will close its doors to the public today.

Many of the guests at the hotel have left for their northern homes during the last week, but some have remained until the last, leaving only when the time came for closing the hostelry.

The tourist season just closing has been a successful one for the hotel, which is finishing its third season, and the management, as well as the officers and stockholders of the hotel company are well satisfied with the business done this year.

Being practically new, the hotel is not yet well known among the winter visitors to the state, but is becoming better known each year. That the hotel and management are popular with the guests is shown by the fact that many of the guests this season were at the house last year. Many of them will return again next year, having already made reservations for the coming season.

Under the management of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Johnson the hotel is fast gaining an enviable reputation with the winter visitors, and it is hoped by guests and townspeople that Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will return to the Rio Vista next season.

Ocean House Remains Open

At the same time he made the suggestion that it take the form of a debate. The decision to give the third contest in 1920 was reached because of the excellent work done by the contestants who entered the lists for the three cash prizes offered this year by Mr. Peabody. There were three contestants from DeLand, two from New Smyrna and three from Seabreeze.

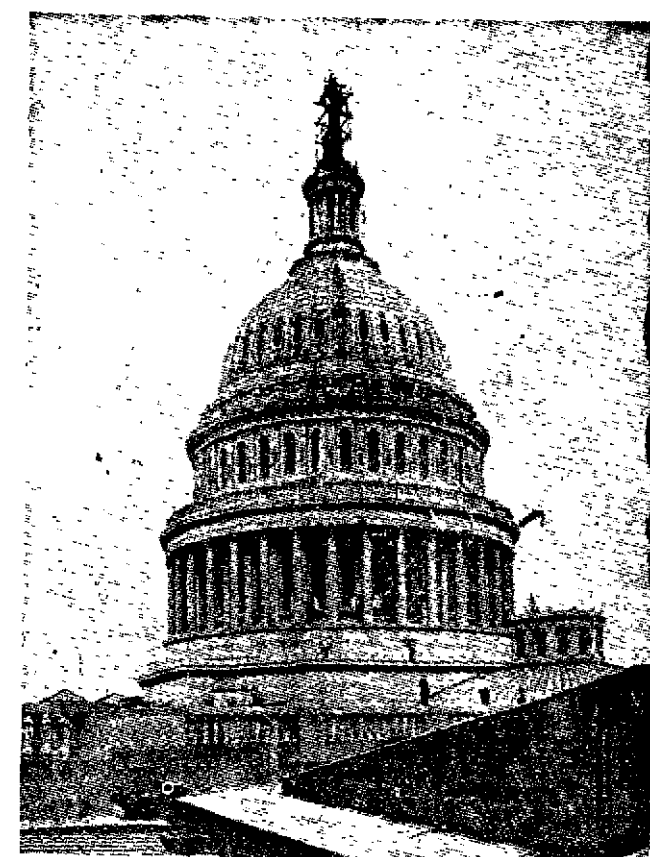

County Superintendent C. R. M. Sheppard was in charge of the contest and there was a large audience of interested spectators from New Smyrna, DeLand and other places in the county. The awards were made by R. S. Holmes of Daytona Beach, Prof. L. C. Stiver of Stetson University and Mrs. W. L. Cooper of New Smyrna. The points were given equally on enunciation, command of subject, general bearing and voice. The verdict of the judges awarded first place to Edward Bebee of Seabreeze. He was awarded $15. Chandler Smith of DeLand was given second place and the prize of $10. Miss Mary Parsons of Seabreeze was third and received $5. Miss Catherine Watterson of Seabreeze was given honorable mention. Other entrants were Miss Gladys Stevens of DeLand, and Louis Bouche and Royal Klintworth of New Smyrna.

Among those from New Smyrna who were present were Principal H. J. Craven, Mrs. Nellie Crews Walker and Mrs. W. L. Cooper.

AUTO HITS MOTOR CAR THREE NEGROES HURT

Three negroes were badly injured when an automobile struck a railroad motor car at the Canal street crossing yesterday noon. The three injured men were attended by Dr. W. C. Chowning, the local railroad physician, and placed on train No. 12 and sent to the hospital in St. Augustine. One of them was thrown under the motor car and run over, his leg being broken at the thigh and his back seriously injured. The other two were not so badly hurt, but were much bruised and cut. The motor car was being used by Foreman S. W. Smith and his crew and Mr. Smith was considerably bruised and scratched, but not seriously injured. The automobile was one passing through the city, coming east on Canal street, and was not much damaged. The motor car was badly wrecked.

CONFIDENCE MEN CLEAN MAN HERE FOR $10,000

Induce Him to Make Trip to His Home in Canada to Raise Money and then Take It Away from Him on Fake Deal in Stocks.

Stung by confidence men for $10,000 in cold cash—practically everything he had in the world—there was one man in New Smyrna yesterday who is a poorer, sadder and wiser man.

The man is a retired farmer from Ontario, Canada, who has been spending the winter in Florida and came here by appointment with his alleged friends, who are now gone with his cash. Realizing that his experience has left him with nothing but a return ticket to Canada and a mortgage on his property and that he has nothing to gain by silently brooding over the affair which has "broke" him, the man talks freely about the matter, but specially requests that his name be not used. As he is a total stranger in New Smyrna the name of Smith will answer.

It is the old, old story of listening to the advice of newly made friends to play a sure thing on the stock market and make enough money to last him for the balance of his life. The sure thing failed at the last minute, everybody lost all their money, the friends got into a free for all fight and all disappeared. Also, Mr. Smith's money disappeared at the same time and he didn't wake up to the real situation until sufficient time afterward for the "friends" and money to have put considerable distance between them and New Smyrna.

Deal Starts at Miami

The beginning of the story dates back to March 5, when Mr. Smith, who was spending the winter in Miami, got into conversation with a couple of strangers while sitting in the park in that city. Merely the time of day was passed and the conversation went along general lines, but at parting the two strangers expressed pleasure at having met Mr. Smith and introduced themselves as R. R. Wardell of East St. Louis and B. L. Adams, P. O. box 435, Minneapolis, Minn. They expressed a desire to meet Mr. Smith again, and an appointment was made for the next day. During the course of the conversation the next day, when the subject of stocks and killings on the stock exchange was being discussed, Mr. Wardell remarked that he knew of a branch office in Miami operated by a wealthy New York firm which was "strong enough to control the market." It was arranged that his friends, Smith and Adams, should meet the manager of this Miami branch.

Accordingly, next day they were introduced to C. B. Kerwood of 314 Eighth avenue, Yonkers, New York, who was stopping at the Plaza hotel and represented himself to be the Miami representative of this wealthy New York firm. By special arrangement the three friends, Smith, Wardell and Adams, were taken to this branch office, which was located in a residence near the city limits of Miami. The place was fully equipped with telegraph instruments and operators, who were taking the stock quotations and marking them up on a blackboard. There was plenty of money in sight and men who were "playing the market." Taking a tip from Kerwood the three friends purchased a small amount of stock of a certain kind and the next day sold it at a handsome profit.

Tip to Play Heavy

This was repeated several times, until Mr. Smith began to get interested and felt he was learning how to "play the market" to win every time. Then came the tip from Mr. Kerwood, straight information from his company in New York, that there was likely to be some decided changes in the copper market at any time and to be prepared for these changes when they came.

The time came to buy copper on a rising market and make a killing. Taking the tip from Mr. Kerwood, Wardell and Adams decided to play heavy and buy $10,000 worth of copper stock each. Smith was urged to do the same thing, but Smith didn't have that much money. He was willing to put in what he had and could raise through his bank in Ontario, but that wouldn't amount to $10,000. It was explained by Mr. Kerwood that it was necessary for each of the men to buy $10,000 worth of stock in order to make it worth while for his company to swing the market so they could make the proposed "killing," which Mr. Kerwood figured up for them would amount to something over $96,000, or a little better than $32,000 profit for each.

Sent Home for Money

The only way Mr. Smith could raise that much money would be for him to go back to his home town in Canada, mortgage his property and bring the money back with him. He was finally persuaded to do this, being assured by Mr. Kerwood that he could have his company hold off the proposed cornering of the copper mar-

AGED RESIDENT IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

IN PASSING OF C. C. MOORE, NEW SMYRNA MOURNS LOSS OF ONE OF OLDEST AND BEST KNOWN CITIZENS.

In the death of Charles C. Moore, which occurred Monday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. E. Swoope, New Smyrna loses one of her oldest, best known and most liked citizens. Mr. Moore was 83 years of age and had been in feeble health for several months, an attack of influenza last fall having weakened him to such an extent he was not able to regain his strength. Mr. Moore was one of the oldest residents of this city, having come here from Carlisle, Illinois, 20 years ago with his daughter and wife, the latter living only five years after moving here. Mr. Moore loved Florida so well he would never return to his native state. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Swoope, and a host of friends to mourn his demise.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the home, conducted by Rev. R. A. George, interment being made in the Hawks Park cemetery. The pallbearers were H. Luthge, T. J. Murray, J. J. Birch, J. T. Swinford, M. Lockwitz and M. A. Brunson.

LOCAL MAN WEDS ST. AUGUSTINE GIRL

St. Augustine Record: William Lewis Hudson formerly of this city, but now of New Smyrna, and Miss Dorothy Marie Ray were quietly married Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock by Judge George William Jackson at his office. The wedding was very quiet, the only attendants being Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Lopez and the latter's mother, Mrs. E. J. Car, most intimate friends of the young couple. The groom is a promising young conductor on the Florida East Coast Flagler system running from New Smyrna to Fort Pierce. The bride was a nurse at the Florida East Coast hospital. After the ceremony the couple left on the 2:40 train for New Smyrna, where they will make their future home.

Kept Men Posted by Wires

Mr. Smith boarded the train at Miami and went to his home in Canada. Following instructions from Mr. Kerwood, he wired when he reached home, wired again when he completed the transaction of mortgaging his property and received a New York draft for $10,000, wired again when he started back to Miami, sent another telegram when he reached Jacksonville, and was met by Wardell and Adams at St. Augustine and informed that Mr. Kerwood had received instructions from his company to move his branch office from Miami to New Smyrna, and that the three of them were to meet him here.

Begin Operations Here

Accordingly they got off the night train at New Smyrna, and all three put up at the Ocean House. The next day Adams suggested that as they were to be here for several days it would be better to find some quarters where they would be more by themselves, so they engaged a room at Mrs. Skipper's, furnished for light housekeeping, and started to "batch" it, Adams being a good cook.

The next day they met Mr. Kerwood, who was stopping at the Rio Vista, and he showed them his instructions to move the branch office to New Smyrna, and explained that the branch office had been opened on south Magnolia street, near the Palms hotel. He inquired if Mr. Smith had his money, was advised that the draft was in Smith's pocket, and advised him to put it in the bank and have it placed to his credit. Mr. Smith took his draft to the bank and asked that it be placed to his credit, saying he was planning to buy some timber land near here, but the bank declined to do this, explaining that the draft would be taken for collection and placed to his credit when the money was received. After a consultation with Kerwood, Smith decided to leave the draft for collection. This was last Friday and he was advised that the money would be here from New York about Wednesday.

So Wednesday was set for the date to place the big money on copper, to be purchased on a rising market. Kerwood had it all fixed with his company to swing the market the right way at the right time.

EVERY CAR IN STATE MUST CARRY NUMBER

GOVERNOR INSTRUCTS SHERIFFS TO STRICTLY ENFORCE PROVISIONS OF STATE LAW ON LICENSES.

Governor Catts has given the sheriffs of the state positive instructions to enforce the law regarding motor vehicle license tags to the letter. It is said that complaints were made from Volusia county, as well as from other counties in the state, and the following instructions were issued by the governor:

"To the sheriffs of the several counties of the state:

"Gentlemen:

"Complaints have been made to me that cars are being operated on the roads and streets of the state without number plates, as required by chapter 7275, laws of the state. Ample time has elapsed for the registration of every car in the state, and the comptroller is prepared to furnish tags for all machines required by law to be registered. There is no good reason why every person operating a motor vehicle should not have complied with the law by this time.

"Enforcement of this statute under the law, like other criminal laws of the state, depends upon the activities of the sheriffs and their deputies.

"You will, therefore, please take the necessary steps at once to enforce the provisions of the law and see that every motor vehicle being operated on the roads of the state carries the proper number plates, as it is manifestly unfair for one person to be required to pay the tax, while another does not, to say nothing about the loss of revenue to the state, which goes to benefit the roads.

"The law should be strictly enforced against all persons alike, and you will please do so in your county.

"Yours very truly,

"SIDNEY J. CATTS,

"Governor."

Bill Bailey Injured

Bill Bailey, a well known railroad man, met with an accident while coming in on his run from Jacksonville Tuesday night. He fell from his train into a hole beside the track and seriously wrenched his back. He is now confined to his bed at his home and will probably not be able to take his run for several days.

CLARENCE LOPEZ HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE

The home of Clarence Lopez, about one and a half miles west of the city on the DeLand road, was burned to the ground about noon Tuesday, no one being at home at the time of the fire. Not even their clothing was saved, and there was practically no insurance on the place. Mr. Lopez and family had occupied the place only three weeks, having recently traded his property in the north part of the city for the place.

Adams stuck close to Smith, not permitting him to get into conversation with any person for more than a few minutes at a time. They had the use of Kerwood's Buick touring car, in which they had made the trip from Miami, and spent most of the time driving or out on the river fishing. Smith was advised not to talk to Mrs. Skipper, as he was told that all the southern women were bad and the less he had to do with them the better off he would be.

Draws Cash from Bank

When the day of the big deal arrived Kerwood accompanied Smith to the bank, where he demanded his money, all in cash, explaining that he was about to close his timber deal. The money was paid over to him with the advice that he would better not carry that much money on his person.

Smith and Kerwood returned to the room at Mrs. Skipper's, where Wardell and Adams were waiting, and arrangements were completed for the big deal in copper. Kerwood excused himself and went to the branch office to see that everything was going all right and returned with the information that his company had fixed the New York market and that copper was going up fast. The $30,000 raised by Smith, Wardell and Adams was placed in Wardell's hands and he was told to go over to the branch office and buy copper stock for the whole amount. Just before Wardell left the room Kerwood pulled $6,000 in cash from his pocket and handed it to Wardell to buy copper stock for him, explaining that his company would not permit him to buy, but Wardell could purchase the stock in his Wardell's name and turn the profits over to Kerwood.

The Bubble Bursts

As soon as Wardell left the three men sat down to figure their profits, and Kerwood figured it the same as he had previously, a total of $36,000 gain, or $32,000 for each of the three. While they were still figuring the profits Wardell burst into the room very much excited. He explained that the copper market was falling instead of rising, that he had placed the whole $36,000 on copper on a falling market, that the branch office had been closed for the day a few minutes later, that he had no money to cover the short and that they had lost the whole amount.

He blamed Kerwood for giving them a wrong tip, called him every ville name he could think of and threatened to kill him. He jumped on Kerwood, who was sitting on the bed, grabbed him by the throat and was apparently trying to carry out his threat when Adams interfered and separated them. A general "chewing match" followed, but they finally all "made up" and agreed to be friends.

Previous to Wednesday Kerwood had received instructions from his company to move the branch office from New Smyrna to Ohio, and arrangements had been made for Smith, Wardell and Adams to accompany him there. They were all to leave Wednesday afternoon, after they had collected their profits from the stock transaction.

Smith Grows Suspicious

When things went wrong Wardell and Adams left to go over to the branch office and see if some arrangements could be made to get at least part of their money back. Kerwood left in his car, saying he had to go to Titusville to get some repairs for the car which he could not get in New Smyrna. Smith was instructed to wait until Wardell and Adams re-

A large number from New Smyrna enjoyed the Woman's club picnic at the Beach hotel pavilion Tuesday.

E. H. Dunham and Walter Collins have both sold their cars during the last week.

Mrs. Beach and children of Ohio have leased the Curry cottage for a few months.

Mrs. John Vrooman went to Mt. Dora Wednesday to spend some time with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson, who are regular winter residents here, left for their home in Indiana Tuesday morning.

Mrs. J. Grable and little daughter, who spent last summer here, have again leased the Suitor cottage for the summer.

Misses Florence Hambry and Beatrice Hawke and Mesdames Hambry, Liming and Haycock motored to Daytona Tuesday, shopping.

People are leaving every day now for their northern homes. We are looking forward to seeing the majority of them return next fall.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Terpening and daughter Frances left Monday for their home in Beulah, Mich. They expect to make the entire trip in their car.

A total of about $15 was obtained from the sale of tags for the child welfare work. This special work is being done everywhere by the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. J. L. Gaudin, visited her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Reed, Sunday before returning to her home in DeLand, after a stay of several days in Titusville.

Dr. and Mrs. E. O. Dyer, who have been spending some time with relatives in Melbourne, have returned to Coronado and have taken an apartment in the John Adams.

Death of Mrs. Carney

The community was shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. John Carney, which occurred some time Sunday night. Mrs. Carney had gone to bed apparently in good health and was found dead in bed Monday morning. Mrs. Carney, who was formerly Mrs. Parrott, was 45 years of age and leaves four children, one son, Lee, being employed by the railroad, and the other three being in the children's home in Jacksonville. Mrs. Carney was married a few months ago to John Carney of this place. She was a hard working woman and had been all of her life. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at the Maley undertaking rooms and interment was in the Hawks Park cemetery.

Cut Glass More Fragile.

Cut glass probably would break more easily than uncut glass. The pattern in cut glass is cut by means of grinding wheels. Uncut glass patterns are usually molded. The angles in cut glass are better defined and sharper. The cutter also may, in some places, drive his wheel a little deeper than in other spots. Obviously, the glass at such points would be thinner and more fragile.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB

The Woman's club picnic, held Tuesday at Daugherty's hotel on the beach, was one of the most delightful gatherings of the club year.

Although the weather was windy and disagreeable, there was a large number present, and a social time was enjoyed inside. A splendid dinner was spread, which had been brought by those present and together with hot coffee was enjoyed by everyone. Mesdames H. H. Sams, G. M. Marshall and E. M. Little had charge of affairs and spread the tables. An invitation had been extended to the musicians who had so kindly assisted on the programs during the year and they joined the club members at dinner.

Varying the usual order of business, the annual election of officers was held in connection with the picnic and resulted as follows:

President—Mrs. H. H. Sams.
Vice President—Mrs. P. A. Powers.
Secretary—Mrs. Adair.
Treasurer—Mrs. E. A. Latham.
Department Chairmen: Literary, Mrs. W. L. Cooper; music, Mrs. W. C. Clowning; social, Mrs. S. M. Jones; civics, Mrs. E. M. Little; junior civics, Mrs. G. M. Marshall.

There were 51 present at the dinner, including members and friends of the club.

TEN MONTHS IN GANG FOR YOUNG WHITE MAN

A clean looking young white man, 22 to 24 years of age, well dressed, with hair neatly cut and brushed, appeared before Judge Hamlin last week and drew ten months in the chain gang, where he will serve with negroes working on the public roads.

It was a sad sight and but proved the depravity of a man who should have known better.

The man was G. A. Fretwell, whose home is in Quitman, Ga., where his people live. He made all kinds of promises if the judge would let him off upon payment of the costs, promises to turn over a new leaf, to walk in the straight and narrow way, and live a life above reproach.

But the evidence before the court proved that Fretwell was a soldier of his country; was insubordinate, and was dishonorably discharged from the army; that he had passed one worthless check or $25.00 on the father of the young lady he was courting in Lake Helen, and another worthless check in DeLand; that he had passed other worthless checks was stated by officers of the Quitman, Ga., bank, in a letter to the officers here.

The judge could do nothing but give him a severe lesson. He assessed a fine of $250.00 and costs or ten months on the county roads. Unless the young man's relatives, who are well to do, and have apparently been paying his worthless checks in the past, come to his relief, he must serve the ten months with negro thieves, blind tiger runners, etc.

It was a sad sight, but one that is becoming common in Florida the past two winter seasons. The state is flooded with these young men, who appear to think they can come here and do things which would not be tolerated in any civilized community. —DeLand News.

Blucher in the Hospital.

At the time of the seven years war there was very little knowledge of surgery, and the surgeons were often more than barbers, inexperienced and uneducated. They were commonly known as the "Company of Pain," a name that fitted them admirably. Lieutenant Blucher, afterward the famous field marshal, was wounded in the foot by a musket ball. At the hospital to which he was carried several surgeons began to probe the wound and cut promiscuously in its vicinity. Finally Blucher inquired, in spite of the pain, "What sort of tailoring are you trying to do? The wound is large enough already, I should think!" "We're looking for the bullet," answered one of the offended surgeons. "Oh! Oh!" cried Blucher angrily. "Why didn't you tell me that before? I have it in my pocket." And with that he drew from his pocket the bullet, which he had extracted from the wound himself.

THE COSMETIC OF THE INANIMATE.

I am the savior of surfaces.
I am the world-old preserver.
Noah knew me, for he pitched the ark within and without.
The Pharaohs sought me as an adornment for their tombs—their mummies endure because I conserve.
I am the woad of the ancient Britons: their blue battle hue.
Because of me the treasures of the Sistine Chapel defy effacement.
I am the keeper of the antique.
I am the servant of progress.
Columbus found me bedecking the savages who watched him plant Ferdinand's banner on the shores of New Spain; and the very sails of his caravels resisted the elements of the West through my aid.
The pioneers westward wending their way daubed the prairie schooners with my protection.
I am the royal robes of civilization's monarchs, Steel and Lumber.
The taut wings of the airplane gleam under my protective veneer.
The sullen dreadnaught and the homing transport plow the sea impervious to corrosion because of me.
I waterproof your agents of destruction, the bullet and the shell.
I drew the mercy of my concealing camouflage over your hospitals.
I shrouded the homes, and on the barns, and on the cement sidewalks.
Where life is, I am alive.
Where death and decay set in my absence hastens them.
And my mission is to preserve.
Saver of Surface, I am PAINT!

Repair Mirrors.
To repair the silvering on the back of a mirror lay it face downward on a smooth surface and prepare a piece of tissue large enough to patch the damaged part by rubbing it with mercury. Then the patch in position, lay a sheet of paper over it, and put on it a heavy enough to press it down. Let the mirror lie in this position for a day or two and the silvering will be restored to the glass.

In Duty Bound.
Professor—"Young gentlemen, it is my duty and privilege to create in you a thirst for knowledge." Student—"Now you have helped me solve a problem over which I have been puzzling for some time." Professor—"Indeed, I am pleased to have been of assistance. May I ask in what particular I have enlightened you?" Student—"I never could understand before why all your lectures are so dry."—Christian Herald.

Evolution of the Almond.

One would scarcely suspect the almond of ever being anything else than a nut. Outside the shell is a thin coating of green, leathery pulp, too bitter to eat and not much more inviting than the husk of a hazelnut. Yet, within historical times, selection and cultivation have modified the almond into a luscious fruit—the peach.

THESE LONG EVENINGS

Call forcibly to mind the necessity for good lighting in the home. The most pleasant time of the day for the business man is when he goes home after his day's work to spend the evening with his family, and the pleasantness is enhanced or lessened by the good or poor lighting in the home.

Electricity furnishes the best, most convenient and safest form of lighting. There is no fuss, no worry, no muss. Just turn the switch and you have a flood of light when you want it and where you want it.

If you have any lighting problems we would be glad of an opportunity to talk them over with you.
